Quote of the Week

“Nothing this side of Christ's return can be confused with what God ultimately promises for his people. The short-term payoffs of this world pale in comparison to the ‘precious and very great promises’

God grants his people (2 Pet. 1:4). God's promises cannot be downsized into the idols of temporary health and wealth. The promises of God are so much greater than anything this world has to offer that, when trusted, they fill a person with hope for what is not yet a reality but will one day certainly be true.” ~ Scott Hafeman

Scripture of the Week

Now to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt. But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness. Romans 4:4-5

Quote of the Week

“Nothing this side of Christ's return can be confused with what God ultimately promises for his people. The short-term payoffs of this world pale in comparison to the ‘precious and very great promises’

God grants his people (2 Pet. 1:4). God's promises cannot be downsized into the idols of temporary health and wealth. The promises of God are so much greater than anything this world has to offer that, when trusted, they fill a person with hope for what is not yet a reality but will one day certainly be true.” ~ Scott Hafeman

Scripture of the Week

Now to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt. But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness. Romans 4:4-5

What shall we say then that Abraham our father, as pertaining to the flesh, hath found? For if Abraham were justified by works, he hath whereof to glory; but not before God. For what saith the scripture?

Quote of the Week

“Nothing this side of Christ's return can be confused with what God ultimately promises for his people. The short-term payoffs of this world pale in comparison to the ‘precious and very great promises’

God grants his people (2 Pet. 1:4). God's promises cannot be downsized into the idols of temporary health and wealth. The promises of God are so much greater than anything this world has to offer that, when trusted, they fill a person with hope for what is not yet a reality but will one day certainly be true.” ~ Scott Hafeman

Scripture of the Week

Now to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt. But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness. Romans 4:4-5

Quote of the Week

“Nothing this side of Christ's return can be confused with what God ultimately promises for his people. The short-term payoffs of this world pale in comparison to the ‘precious and very great promises’

God grants his people (2 Pet. 1:4). God's promises cannot be downsized into the idols of temporary health and wealth. The promises of God are so much greater than anything this world has to offer that, when trusted, they fill a person with hope for what is not yet a reality but will one day certainly be true.” ~ Scott Hafeman

Scripture of the Week

Now to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt. But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness. Romans 4:4-5

Quote of the Week

“Nothing this side of Christ's return can be confused with what God ultimately promises for his people. The short-term payoffs of this world pale in comparison to the ‘precious and very great promises’

God grants his people (2 Pet. 1:4). God's promises cannot be downsized into the idols of temporary health and wealth. The promises of God are so much greater than anything this world has to offer that, when trusted, they fill a person with hope for what is not yet a reality but will one day certainly be true.” ~ Scott Hafeman

Scripture of the Week

Now to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt. But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness. Romans 4:4-5

Quote of the Week

“Nothing this side of Christ's return can be confused with what God ultimately promises for his people. The short-term payoffs of this world pale in comparison to the ‘precious and very great promises’

God grants his people (2 Pet. 1:4). God's promises cannot be downsized into the idols of temporary health and wealth. The promises of God are so much greater than anything this world has to offer that, when trusted, they fill a person with hope for what is not yet a reality but will one day certainly be true.” ~ Scott Hafeman

Scripture of the Week

Now to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt. But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness. Romans 4:4-5

What shall we say then that Abraham our father, as pertaining to the flesh, hath found? For if Abraham were justified by works, he hath whereof to glory; but not before God. For what saith the scripture?

What shall we say then that Abraham our father, as pertaining to the flesh, hath found? For if Abraham were justified by works, he hath whereof to glory; but not before God. For what saith the scripture?

CEF Booth – CEF greatly thanks the men who constructed the Del Mar Fair booth last week. Quote of the Week

“Nothing this side of Christ's return can be confused with what God ultimately promises for his people. The short-term payoffs of this world pale in comparison to the ‘precious and very great promises’

God grants his people (2 Pet. 1:4). God's promises cannot be downsized into the idols of temporary health and wealth. The promises of God are so much greater than anything this world has to offer that, when trusted, they fill a person with hope for what is not yet a reality but will one day certainly be true.” ~ Scott Hafeman

Scripture of the Week

Now to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt. But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness. Romans 4:4-5

Quote of the Week

“Nothing this side of Christ's return can be confused with what God ultimately promises for his people. The short-term payoffs of this world pale in comparison to the ‘precious and very great promises’

God grants his people (2 Pet. 1:4). God's promises cannot be downsized into the idols of temporary health and wealth. The promises of God are so much greater than anything this world has to offer that, when trusted, they fill a person with hope for what is not yet a reality but will one day certainly be true.” ~ Scott Hafeman

Scripture of the Week

Now to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt. But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness. Romans 4:4-5

What shall we say then that Abraham our father, as pertaining to the flesh, hath found? For if Abraham were justified by works, he hath whereof to glory; but not before God. For what saith the scripture?

Quote of the Week

“Nothing this side of Christ's return can be confused with what God ultimately promises for his people. The short-term payoffs of this world pale in comparison to the ‘precious and very great promises’

God grants his people (2 Pet. 1:4). God's promises cannot be downsized into the idols of temporary health and wealth. The promises of God are so much greater than anything this world has to offer that, when trusted, they fill a person with hope for what is not yet a reality but will one day certainly be true.” ~ Scott Hafeman

Scripture of the Week

Now to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt. But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness. Romans 4:4-5
